Old-Time Plantation Show Carries Patrons
Back to Land of Yesterday.

An old-time minstrel show holds the boards at the Mason this week, and Los Angeles has evidently been waiting for an opportunity to again revel in the pleasures of the past and enjoy the jokes, mirth and music of the old plantation show devoid of the many innovations which in recent years have robbed the modern attractions of much of their enjoyment.

An audience far larger than had been expected witnessed the opening performance of Rusco & Hockwald's Georgia Minstrel's last night and laughed themselves far away from the land of dull care back to the days of used-to-be. While the songs were new, the settings brilliant and the music mixed a little with modern jazz, the show in the main was the kind which for two generations has held a warm place in the hearts of the theater-going public.

The opening is the kind that starts with "gentlemen, be seated," and throughout the first part bones and tambo keep up the lively repartee which has made the minstrels famous. Mother-in-law jokes vie with each other for first place, and negro characteristics which bring forth comedy impossible of imitation, go to make a laugh show well worth while. The voices are all good and the harmony of the ensemble is the kind that only comes from a chorus of real negro singers.

Ed. Woods, as the interlocutor, is a hit of the first part and puts it over in true Billie West fashion. His tenor solo is perhaps the best spot in the opening scene. The olio runs true to form and introduces sketch teams, a musical pair and the old-time "after-piece." The Johnson brothers feature some remarkable dancing, while one of the pair made a decided hit by clever imitations of the late George Primrose. Elmer Sterman, in the closing number, proves a real comedian and adds a touch of genius to the end of a right good show.

This week's bill cannot fail to appeal to all old-time patrons of the theatre and is a real treat after the long series of innovations which have been introduced in recent years and which have made of the minstrel show too much of a combined vaudeville and musical revue. — Los Angeles Times, September 28, 1920.

SAMUEL SMILEY'S SAYINGS

He Answers Some Queries About the Senatorial Syn-dicated Candidate.

Question. What does Senator Harding mean by "America first?"

Answer. He is probably speaking for the non-leaguers—America first, Russia second, Turkey third and Mexico fourth.

Q. Can I explain his stand on the League of Nations?

A. Which stand do you mean—Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, or 9?

Q. Why did he quit his proposed Western trip?

A. I don't know, unless it was for non-support.

Q. Do I understand all of his speeches?

A. Perfectly—but I don't know what they mean.

Q. What do I think of his statement to women that "we hear too much talk about independence in politics?"

A. He simply changed an old record and made it "Her Master's Voice."

Q. Why are his speeches all so dull and pointless?

A. Because he never tries to use epigrams, but confines himself to ouijaagrams.

Q. Why does he get his speeches mixed up?

A. He has too many "controls."

Q. Who wrote the song that goes:

"We need another Lincoln to do the Nation's thinkin' And, Mr. Harding, we've selected you."

A. A comedian.

Q. Do I think Senator Harding resembles Lincoln?

A. As a statesman, he looks to me like "September Morn."

Q. Why is he so indignant about the United States preserving order in Haiti?

A. We didn't intervene in Haiti until 1915, and he's just found out about it.

Q. What will he say about the High Court of International Justice just organized by the League of Nations, with Elihu Root as one of the organizers?

A. Sh-h-h! His heart is still in the grave there with the Hague Tribunal.

Q. Does the Chairman of the Republican National Committee spell his name Hays or Hayes?

A. For this campaign he ought to spell it Haze.

Q. How can I find out who is running on the ticket with Harding for Vice-President?

A. Consult the Bureau of Lost Persons.
